IRON AND STEEL BILL IS PASSED

Democratic Revision Is Put through House, 210 to 109.

REPUBLICAN MINORITY DELAYS

Twenty Republicans and One Socialist Cast Votes with Majority in Bill's Favor—Three Democrats Vote in Opposition.

Washington, Jan. 30. — The Democratic bill revising the iron and steel schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was passed by the house by a vote of 210 to 109.

The Republican minority became indignant at the refusal of Majority Leader Underwood to permit unlimited discussion of the free list paragraph in the measure and by numerous amendments and ceaseless calls for "division and tellers," succeeded in delaying action on the bill for several hours.

On the final passage twenty Republicans and Representative Berger of Wisconsin, the Socialist, voted with the Democrats for the measure. The Republicans were Representatives Jackson, Murdock and Young, of Kansas; Aikin, New York; Davis and Lindbergh, of Minnesota; Haugen, Woods and Hubbard, of Iowa; Warburton and LaFollette of Washington; Lenroot, Moore and Nelson, of Wisconsin; Norris, Sloan and Kinkead, of Nebraska; Kent and Stephens, of California; Lafferty of Oregon, and Helgersen of North Dakota.

Three Democrats, Martin, Rucker and Taylor of Colorado, voted with the Republicans against the steel bill. In the Democratic caucus, held a week ago to endorse the measure, these members explained that they were pledged to their constituents to vote for higher duties on lead and zinc than were provided by the bill and by a caucus rule covering the case were excused from being bound by the caucus action.

GIRL'S SLAYER IS EXECUTED

Albert Wolter Denies Killing Ruth Wheeler to the Last.

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Albert Wolter, murderer of fifteen-year-old Ruth Wheeler, died in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison. He was declared dead at 5.41 a. m.

The girl went to Wolter's flat in New York in search of employment and he killed her after she had been attacked. Her charred body was found in a bag on a fire escape. Wolter left a statement with Warden Kennedy denying that he had committed the crime.

STATE BOARD ALSO PASSES RULING FOR COUNTY NORMAL GRADUATES.

The state board of education has made a change in the schedule of tuition fees to go into effect at the opening of the summer term of 1912. After that date the tuition rate will be as follows:

For residents of Michigan, $5 for each regular term of twelve weeks and $3 for the summer term of six weeks.

For non-residents of Michigan, $10 for each regular term of twelve weeks and $5 for the summer term of six weeks.

The State Board of Education has also made the following ruling relative to County Normal graduates: Graduates from County Normal Training Classes who are also graduates from approved high schools shall be given credit in eight subjects on the life certificate courses in the several State Normal Schools and Normal College instead of six subjects as heretofore. This will enable the above classes of students to complete the life certificate courses in one year and two summer terms.

SAGINAW POLES HAVE FIGHT

One Uses Hammer on Other and Breaks Infant's Nose.

Saginaw, Mich., Jan. 30.—John Falkin, a Pole, is in jail as a result of a drunken fight, according to the police, which took place in the Polish settlement in South Saginaw. The injured man, Walter Swatsky, after receiving medical attention, was also locked up. The two men got in a fight at a neighbor's house and Falkin, it is said, struck the other with a hammer, knocking him unconscious.

The head of the hammer flew off, striking a six-months-old baby across the bridge of the nose, breaking the nasal bones. Six stitches were needed to close the wound. The baby's condition is serious.

IS SURE THAT HE WILL FIND BACON LETTERS

Dr. Orville W. Owen of Detroit spent Sunday and a part of Monday in Ypsilanti with his brother, T. C. Owen. Dr. Owen talked most entertainingly of the work he is prosecuting with the view of proving that Lord Bacon wrote the plays attributed to Shakespeare. So great has been the interest in his labors aroused in England that the town of Chetstow, in Wales, where his work is being carried on, has experienced a new era of fame and prosperity, owing to the special trains that have been run down to the place and the large number of visitors drawn there by interest in the work of Dr. Owen.

Dr. Owen has actually found the stone work which he described while in New York on his way to Enginad. He will return to England as soon as certain matters have been arranged. In order to carry on his work further, a cofferdam will have to be constructed in the River Wye, but, this done, Dr. Owen expects to open up the cleft and find the boxes of manuscript he asserts are lying there.

Dinner will be ready at exactly 6:30 o'clock, Thursday evening, Feb. 1st, at the Masonic Temple Dining Rooms.

What ought to be our next move?

Let's talk it over together after dinner.

There will be brief addresses on other pages of our city's history—past and history to come.

There will be a discussion of the County Roads System.

We will hold seats for you if you phone either bank. We ought to know by noon Wednesday just how many plates must be provided.

If you cannot possibly be in town won't you send a man in your place?

C. S. DARROW INDICTED

Expecting Such Action, He Arranges for Bond.

Chicago Attorney Had Charge of Disbursement of Big McNamara Defense Fund.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—Clarence Darrow, who was chief counsel for James J. and John B. McNamara, the Times dynamiters, has been indicted on the charge of jury bribing. He has engaged a lawyer and made arrangements for bail.

Information that the finale of the bribery investigation was imminent spread rapidly, and Darrow, who has been living at Venice, a seashore resort, came up to Los Angeles and went directly to the office of Earl Rogers, whom he has retained to represent him.

All rumors of indictments have centered about Darrow, who had supervision over the disbursement of the $225,000 said to have been raised for the defense of the confessed dynamiters.

Darrow will be arraigned Thursday morning. He was required to give $10,000 bond on each of two indictments.

GIVES GOOD ADDRESS ON ANCIENT ART

Miss Bertha Goodison gave a short address and showed slides dealing with a group of Venetian painters of the Renaissance Monday afternoon before one of the advanced classes in the drawing department and a number of townspeople. Whereas Florentine art had been profoundly serious and reflected the civic troubles of the state, Venetian art, ripening a century later, was characterized by optimism, cheerfulness and glorious color. The Venetian masters loved to paint pageants and public ceremonies and feasts and they also painted portraits admirably. In this school there are found many examples too of "Holy Conversations," that is, Biblical characters conversing with people.

Miss Goodison traced further very interestingly the causes which had contributed to Venetian art developing as it had. The Venetians had been prosperous under the rule of the doges, whose authority they were not inclined to question. A sense of color was cultivated by the constant contact with Oriental products brought thither by their commerce with Oriental ports.

A charming set of views was then shown. Mantegna, who belonged to the school of Padua and based his art on that of the Greek sculptors and Roman reliefs, was shown in a number of pictures marked by a sculpturesque quality. He and the Bellinis greatly influenced the Venetian school, and Giovanni Bellani had been Titian's teacher. Bellini's faces show a rapt absorption with inward thoughts and are calmly beautiful. Attention was drawn to the balance of white spots in Titian's "Man with the glove," and to the way in which the sharpness of the man's gaze had been accented by the sharp line of his shirt front. His "Sacred and Profane Love" and "Assumption of the Virgin" were also thrown on the screen.

HAS 12 ILLEGAL SALOONS

Michigan Town in Dilemma Over Ruling on New Law.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 30.—Saloon owners and city authorities of Marquette face a peculiar situation in consequence of a decision of the state supreme court upholding the Warner Cramton law.

The purpose of the act is ultimately to reduce the number of saloons so that in no community shall there be more than one to each 500 population. It appears under the court ruling that if Marquette's council had a legal right to license only thirty-four saloons last year, twelve saloons in the city are operating without warrant of the law. The questions arising are which are the twelve and what shall be done, if anything.

NO CAUSE FOR LOCAL SCARE

CAUTION AGAINST FEVER HAS AROUSED THE FEAR OF SOME PARENTS.

Judging by the number of inquiries that reach the office of the Normal Training school, there is a rumor in circulation among the patrons of the Training school that some cause exists for a scarlet fever scare. The truth of the matter is that there has been but a single case and that was of a boy in the eighth grade and he had been out of school a few days before he was taken ill and still longer before his malady was finally pronounced upon. Although the management was confident there was no cause for alarm, still the precaution was observed of thoroughly fumigating the eighth grade room and the apparatus in the gymnasium was washed with a solution which cleansed it completely. The chicken-pox, which was mildly prevalent some time back, seems to have subsided, so there is not the slightest reason for children being kept out of school for such cause.

INDIAN PREACHER IS DEAD

Expires in Michigan After Notable Career in the Pulpit.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 30.—An eventful career closed when Rev. Thomas Cornelius Thomas of L'Anse, a Chippewa Indian, died at St. Luke's hospital at the age of fifty-three.

Mr. Thomas was born near Munising. Early in life he became an instructor in an Indian school in his native village. Later he attended Albion college. For several years he was a bush ranger in the employ of lumber firms. During those years if a camp was to be moved on Sunday Thomas would lend no hand in the operations.

Under the Indian name of Thomas Nabbenayash the decedent was known all over the upper peninsula. He was ordained deacon in the Methodist Episcopal church in 1881. Afterward he was much in demand at Indian camp meetings in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin.

PRESIDENT TAFT OPENS CAMPAIGN

Defends His Administration in Cleveland Speech.

FIVE HUNDRED HEAR HIM TALK

McKinley Day Banquet of Tippecanoe Club Is Scene of Ringing Partisan Utterances by Nation's Chief.

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—President Taft made a ringing political speech here at the McKinley day banquet of the Tippecanoe club.

He vigorously defended his administration and declared that the Republican party under his leadership had fulfilled the pledges made in the last national platform. Mr. Taft's speech practically marks the opening of the Republican national campaign. He declared that the Republican party was backed by a strong record, and the rank and file of the Republican party should have no fear of the outcome of the next presidential election. The defeat of the Republicans in 1910 was due, the president said, to defections of Republicans rather than to an increase in Democratic strength.

The president's speech was cordially received by the 500 guests who had gathered from all parts of the Buckeye state. Mr. Taft paid a tribute to the late President William McKinley, who, he said, had called him from the bench into a political life.

"The Payne-Aldrich tariff law," Mr. Taft said," was not a complete compliance with the Republican party pledges, but it did contain substantial revisions. "Other schedules," he added, "notably the woolen and cotton schedules, needed modification and will be changed if the Republican party is kept in power by the people in the coming elections."

Mr. Taft defended the tariff commission and insisted that all tariff legislation should be "intelligent and not destructive."

At a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce the president made a speech urging the ratification of the pending arbitration treaties with France and Great Britain. In the afternoon he had a political conference with Former Governor Herrick, A. I. Vorys, Republican national committeeman from Ohio, and William H. Miller, former assistant attorney general of Ohio, at which the general situation in the state was discussed.

OPPOSE "CHECK OFF"

Coal Operators Are Decidedly against This Demand.

Any Argument on Wage Scale at This Conference Seems Extremely Improbable.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—In the joint conference of the miners and operators in the effort to agree on a scale of wages for mining coal, the operators took decided ground against the unlimited "check off" demand of the miners' convention. The demand would require the operators to check off from a miner's wages any sum that the organization might demand that he pay into the union and pay this sum to the treasurer of the local organization.

The operators say that the system works many hardships among the miners, especially in cases of sickness or loss of work for any cause and that there is much complaint among their employes over it. The operators are willing to check off the dues of the miner only, and refuse to check off assessments levied by the organization.

The prospects for an agreement by the joint conference on a wage scale appear to be remote.

STUDENTS ACCUSED OF ARSON

Charge Is Made After Canadian College Is Burned.

Farnham, Que., Jan. 30. — Fire destroyed the Holy Cross college, on the Yamaski river, near here. There were about 150 boarding pupils in the college, but they all got out safely. The loss is $125,000.

Five students were arrested on a charge of incendiarism. It is charged that because some of the boys were refused permission to go home for a holiday they revenged themselves by firing the school.

The rural social center idea has taken root out in Wisconsin in Manitowoc county. A farmers' club has been organized and it meets in the school building. The advantages of these social centers,—that is, making a practical use of school buildings,—in the city and country is a very sensible and practical and potential force for good. Such a use of our school buildings for the discussion of questions affecting the public welfare would add value to these public buildings, too much of the time not earning the dividends they might.

STRANGE KINGDOM OF NEPAL

Secluded Land at Foot of the Himalayas Where King George Went Hunting.

The ancient and interesting little kingdom at the foot of the Himalayas to which the king went for his shoot is nearer to being an independent territory than any other of the Indian states.

Since the eighteenth century it has been ruled by the Gurkhas, who furnish to the Indian army some of the most perfect soldiers in the world. For practical purposes the country is almost as closely secluded from Europeans as Thibet, to which in many respects it is akin.

The Terai, where King George was lately encamped, is the low-lying jungle tract bordering on the Indian plain, a region extraordinarily rich in wild animals, including elephants, the capture of which is a highly organized and valuable industry.

The maharaja of Nepal, whose death by the way occurred on December 11, was a titular sovereign only, the real ruler being the hereditary prime minister, who visited England a few months ago. He has the title of maharaja, and is entitled to a salute of nineteen guns.

One result of the jealous exclusion of foreigners, which the Indian government thoroughly respects, is that very little is known of a great part of Nepal, and that much of the available information as to social and economic conditions is mere guesswork. For close upon a hundred years the rulers have been our very good friends, and the force of eight thousand men headed by Jung Bahadur in the Mutiny was of inestimable service. —Westminster Gazette.

THEY HAD PLENTY OF CLUBS

Postmaster of Cherrydale Village Names Over Its Various Organizations for the Stranger.

"I suppose that your town is almost too small for the club movement to have affected it much. A town of only eight hundred inhabitants seldom has many clubs, I believe," said the stranger within the gates of Cherrydale to the postmaster.

"Well, we ain't clubbed to death as some places seem to be, but when you come to count 'em up we got considerable many clubs for a town of our size. We got a Woman's Club o' two hundred members, an' a Village Improvement Club, an' a Ladies' Social Club, an' a Friday Afternoon Club, an' a big Choral Club, an' a Current Events Club, an 'a Library Club, an' a Dickens Club, an' a Thought an' Work Club, an' a Art Club, an' a mixed club that calls itself the Progress Club, an' a Dancing Club, an' five whist clubs an' a Euchre Club, an' a Saturday Night Club. Then the W. C. T. U., an' the Odd Fellows, an' the masons, an' Knights o' Phythias, an' the D. A. R., an' the G. A. R., an' the Ancient Order o' Hibernians, an' the Eastern Stars, an' the Sons o' Temp'rance an' the Christian Endeavorers all have societies here, an' they are tryin' to start a Y. M. C. A., an' a Y. W. C. A. Then with the Grange, an' the Boys' Brigade, an' five churches, an' some Boy Scouts, an' a Lend a Hand Society, an' a Handicraft Society, an' the Good Samaritans, an' the Helpers' Guild, we got considdable many clubs, after all. Each of 'em has a fair an' a couple o' entertainments a year, so there's something goin' on a good deal o' the club time, even if the club movement ain't hit us very hard yet."—Judge.

A New Kind of Exercise.

It is a morning exercise invented by a Parisian actress, who takes the newspaper and tears it up. The fragments are thrown upon the floor in a thousand pieces. Then she gets up and collects those pieces, and the point is that not a fragment is lost. For this is the new way of gardening—the stooping cure that is recommended by every doctor. You can do it in your home, and do not require a garden. It is only to buy the morning paper, tear it into fragments, chuck them on the floor, and pick them up. Quite as good as gardening.

BROKEN BEAM CAUSES SLIGHT DELAY IN D., J. & C. TRAFFIC

A broken beam on one of the D., J. & C. cars delayed traffic at the corner of Washington and Cross streets this morning about nine o'clock, for a short time. The car was making the curve in front of the Baptist church when the accident occurred. A wrecking car and crew was sent from the car barns and soon the disabled car was put into commission again. The curve at this point on the line seems to cause considerable trouble. The same car, it is said, that ran into the Baptist church last summer, had a narrow escape, Monday, of having a similar experience. The brake is said to have refused to work but on account of going at a slower speed no serious consequences resulted.

CHILD IS A GREAT THINKER

Juvenile Logic Displayed by the Little Girl Who Wanted a Baby Brother.

Those who call children thoughtless merely prove that they do not know the child nature. Children, as a matter of fact, are great thinkers. They only seem lacking in thought to such of their elders as fail to comprehend that the childish mind works differently from that of the adult. Juvenile logic, for instance, frequently is faulty judged by grown-up standards, but just as frequently it is sound and incontrovertible from its own point of view.

A thoughtful little girl, for example, recently put to rout her mother, a young widow, by a searching fire of questions founded on the request:

"Oh, mamma, won't you buy me a baby brother?"

"You won't understand why I can't do that for you," the mother finally remarked, driven into a corner, "but little girls who have no fathers cannot have little brothers and sisters."

"Well, it seems very unreasonable," said the child, after a few moments of reflection. "Little girls without fathers are pretty sure to be lonely, and that seems all the more reason why they should have other children in the family, doesn't it?"

C. are as follows, each college being represented by two teams, one on the affirmative and one on the negative side: In 1912, M. A. C. shall debate at Alma, Alma at Ypsilanti, and Ypsilanti at M. A. C. In 1912-1913, M. A. C. shall debate at Ypsilanti, Ypsilanti at Alma and Alma at M. A. C. In 1913-1914, the arrangement will be the same as for the first year of the series.

The junior class of the domestic science department has elected the following officers: President, Ethel Mitchell; vice-president, Jessie B. Bruel; secretary, Miss DeGross; treasurer, Edna Kern.

Miss Inez Clark, for several years assistant in the Normal College gymnasium, and for three years a teacher of physical culture in settlement work in Minneapolis, Minn., has been appointed director of the women's gymnasium of the Central Normal school, Mt. Pleasant, during Miss Bertha Ronan's leave of absence at Columbia university.

The Webster Debating club has elected the following officers: president, Guy A. Clumpner; vice-president, Leigh Hubbell; secretary, Arthur Giddings; treasurer, James M. Cork; representative on oratorical board, Joy V. Wigle.

The men of the Normal College are working out for their annual senior-junior interclass track meet, Feb. 24. The seniors have chosen Paul Vollmar general manager, and the juniors chose Arthur A. Rhodes.

CANARY AN ARDENT MOTORIST

Atlanta Man Has a Bird That Has Traveled More Than 20,000 Miles in Automobile.

Many dogs and cats regularly receive their airings in motor cars and have shown distinct preference for these rides, but a canary bird is the latest addition to the ranks of motorists.

Dick Levi of Atlanta, Ga., is the particular canary that has the distinction of being the first in this field and he is said to have traveled over twenty thousand miles in a motor car. J. E. Levi of Atlanta tells an interesting story of Dick. Dick's first ride in an automobile was in a Premier 24, bought by Mr. Levi in Philadelphia in 1906. Dick was one year old at that time, and with Mr. and Mrs. Levi his mileage around Philadelphia, including several trips to Boston, was ten thousand miles.

The three motorists made a trip of twelve hundred miles from Boston to Atlanta in October, 1906, being the first to cover this route in a motor car. They went by way of Baltimore and Philadelphia over the mountains, along the Southern railway. On several occasions they were out all night in their car, sleeping by the roadside Mr. Levi says they spent three weeks in a constant rain during this trip, all the time running on low gear. Mr. Levi is almost always accompanied by Mrs. Levi, who is also an expert at the wheel of a car, and Dick is always the third member of the party. He has become so enamored of motoring that they are afraid to leave him at home for fear that he will do himself bodly injury. Motoring apparently apparently agrees with him, as he is extremely hardy and is a great singer. Besides his motoring he has made three trips to the Pacific coast and return by train. Mr. and Mrs. Levi would part with him under no conditions, an offer of $250 having been refused, it is said.

Foley Kidney Pills

always give satisfaction because they always do the work. J. T. Shelnut, Bremen, Ga., says: "I have used Foley Kidney Pills with great satisfaction and found more relief from their use than from any other kidney medicine, and I've tried almost all kinds. I can cheerfully recommend them to all sufferers for kidney and bladder trouble." Foley Kidney Pills will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Weinmann-Matthews Company.

BOOK TREASURES OF PAST

The cost of materials and copying, illuminating and binding books by hand made them the treasures of rich collectors and the pride of museums, palaces and convent libraries. Immense sums were invested in them, and a rare or unusually original copy became a gem in value, as well as sentiment. Cicero, whose magnificent library was almost as famous as its owner's eloquence, declared that he had seen a parchment roll containing the entire "Iliad" of Homer, which was compressed between the shells of a nut, a work of extreme skill and patience, which a French savant, M. Huet, has since demonstrated was within the range of possibility. Many such tours de force are said to have demonstrated the skill of ancient copyists and their economy parchment and vellum.

In the eighth century it was with great difficulty that a monk of the rich Abbey of Saint Gall, France, gathered piece by piece sufficient parchment to begin the transcription of a rare work. Later, in 1120, a monk employed to prepare a copy of the Bible could not find in all England sufficient parchment for the purpose. —National Magazine.

THE BEST PROOF

Ypsilanti Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.

The story was told to Ypsilanti residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence
Has proven the cure permanent.
The testimony is home testimony—
The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Ypsilanti residents.

Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, 513 S. Huron St., Ypsilanti Mich., says: "I am very much pleased with the results of the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my son's case. About three years ago, he had an attack of typhoid fever and after that complained of his back. When stooping or lifting sharp pains darted through him and I also noticed that the secretions from his kidneys were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills, which were obtained at Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store, removed the trouble after two boxes had been used."

The above statement was given in December, 1908, and when Mrs. Wilkinson was interviewed on September 20, 1911, she said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made in my son's case has been lasting. I am pleased to verify all I have previously said in praise of this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Sherbet From Violets.

Sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some parts of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets, as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

They have so little weight and the cost is so slight that every girl or man who goes away for short trips where a small case is necessary and where the luggage must be carried by hand should invest in one of these sensible luggage carriers.

DENNING REGARDS BOXING AS JOKE

HOW HE BECAME SCRAPPER.

Most boxers look upon their profession as a very serious occupation, but Jack Denning, the New York welterweight, who recently fought a draw with Mike Gibbons in Gotham, is a glaring exception to the rule. Jack thinks fighting is a huge joke, especially when compared to his former mode of earning a living.

"Pounding iron in a foundry is no joke; thumping an opponent with a pair of boxing gloves is so amusingly funny that it's really a big joke. To me there's nothing furnishes the same amount of fun and entertainment that the boxing game does," said Denning as he ordered an extra platter of eggs at a hotel in New York recently.

Perhaps Denning's idea that even fighting is only a joke may have something to do with the fact that his friends all call him "Laughing Jack." He is fond of boxing principally because of the amusement it furnishes him. The business end has not received Jack's attention until within the last twelve months and then only because he has a big family on his hands.

Denning has been fighting only three years, but today he is considered to be one of the most promising welters in the country. He is a very clever boxer, who can hit as hard as any of the men in that class today. It wouldn't be surprising if he goes to the top and wins the title.

But for Denning's story of how he drifted into the fighting business. It's interesting because it shows how comparatively easy a man succeeds who keeps on plugging:

"When I was a kid of twelve my father died. It was up to me to hustle, and I took the first thing that came my way. It happened to be a job in an iron foundry pounding iron all day. At first the work was terribly hard, but when I began to realize that it was making me strong I stuck with it. Foundry work is no joke, particularly to a kid, and I was looking around for something to amuse myself with during the short noon hour. In one of the neighboring back yards several of the men gathered and put on the gloves. Soon I was at it with the larger fellows," said Denning.

Learns During Lunch Hour.

"Some way I seemed to box well without much effort. In a short while the men in the foundry brought in clever fellows who knew the game to box me during the lunch hour. I learned many little tricks of the craft.

"One day in 1908 I was asked over to the new West Side Athletic club in New York to box. In those days the club was considered the toughest school of fighting in the world. If a fellow got away with all the men in his class he'd be stacked up against heavier men. The process would be continued until some one received a good trimming.

"I made a hit at the club. Every heavyweight they put up against me I outboxed, and they decided to send me to the national championships held that year in Boston. There I won the amateur lightweight title.

"Four months later I decided I'd try the professional game.

"At last I got on a bout at a stag held in one of the clubs in Gotham. The manager warned me there'd be no purse unless there was a quick knockout, and at the bell I tore after the big fellow who was my opponent. I believe it was in the third round that I put over the knockout.

"There was a terrible banging at the locked doors, and a second later half a dozen cops broke into the place. They hustled that stag party into the patrol wagon, the fighters going first. We were arrested, and it was my first attempt at fighting for money. I laughed and laughed. It was terribly funny.

"As we bobbed under the light at the corner the fellow I'd knocked out was sprawled on the floor of the wagon. Even that was funny. In a couple of minutes he came to and asked, 'Oh, where am I?' Somebody told him he was riding in a wagon. 'I've been knocked out hundreds of times, but I never came to joy riding before,' he replied. He was an amusing fellow, believe me.

"Well, I went along fighting and working in the foundry until a year ago. Since then I have been very successful.

"I expect to be the welterweight champion some day. At present I have to fight middleweights, but gradually I hope to see the welterweight situation cleared up, with me at the top of the class and holding the title."

Los Angeles Has Five Semipro Leagues

Los Angeles has five semiprofessional baseball leagues and sixty independent nines. Many well known players spend the winter in that city.

"GREATEST PLAYS I EVER SAW," AS MIGHT BE TOLD BY FAMOUS MEN.

During the baseball season of 1911 story after story of "The Greatest Play I Ever Saw," by well known ball players, was published by numerous newspapers. Now some baseball humorist has come across with a few remarks on this subject as they might be told by diamond celebrities as follows:

Joe Cantillon—John Anderson's slide to second with the bases filled.

Bill Finneran—Sherwood Magee's strikeout when he made a hit off the umpire.

Christy Mathewson — Frank Baker's home run off Marquard.

Fielder Jones—When the ball hit Dave Altizer's head and was caught, giving Dave an assist and putout.

Bill Donovan—Schmidt's passed ball in the Detroit-Cub series, 1907, which cost us a game.

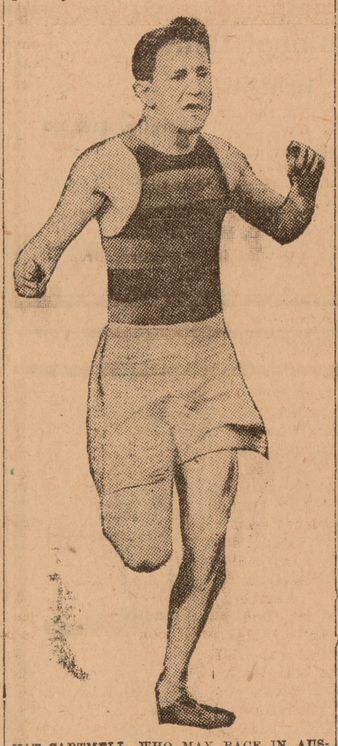
CARTMELL AND RAMSDELL.

Pennsy Athletes Invited to Run In Professional Races In Australia.

Australia promises to be the Mecca for the professional sprinters, and Nat Cartmell and Fred Ramsdell, both former University of Pennsylvania stars, have been invited to visit the land of the kangaroo and race the stars of the earth there in the biggest professional championship and match races ever held.

Cartmell is now the world's champion by reason of his victory over A. L.



NAT CARTMELL, WHO MAY RACE IN AUSTRALIA.

Postle, the English runner, who previously held the title. Ramsdell has stated that he never will compete in a professional contest, though it is possible he may change his mind and go abroad.

It was the intention of Cartmell to quit the cinder path at the end of last year. In fact, he tossed his running shoes overboard on the trip across the ocean, but the call of the large purses and the possibility of adventure are almost sure to capture the southerner, who is now coaching at the University of North Carolina.

INTERNATIONAL SKATING CLUB

Irving Brokaw, Former Figure Champion, Forming Big Club.

Irving Brokaw, who was the champion figure skater of America in 1906, is forming an international skating club, the principal object of which is to cultivate in this country the continental or international form and so make it possible in the near future for Americans to compete with the Swedes, Germans, Russians, Austrians and English.

Four Downs Better, Says Shevlin.

Tom Shevlin, Yale's famous end and coach, says that if four downs are allowed for ten yards instead of three the college game will be greatly improved.

Eastern Ice Skating Championships.

The eastern championship skating races will be held on Brookside lake, near Newburg, N. Y., Feb. 12.

YPSI HOCKEY CLUB WINS FIRST GAME

The Ypsilanti Hockey club won in its first large game, played Saturday night before a crowd of four hundred spectators at the skating rink, with the Shamrock team of the Detroit Amateur Hockey League of Detroit as its opponents. The score stood two to one and, though the boys put up a good game, it was at times rather a rough exhibition of hockey. On the Ypsilanti side, Clinton, goal tender, starred by his spectacular stops, while Fletcher and Hammersmith did excellent offensive playing.

In February the local team will meet either a team from the University of Michigan or a Detroit team from the Athletic club.

GOOD CONTEST IS WON BY VERY NARROW MARGIN

Monday night's match in the two-man league resulted in a victory for Hayden and Christensen, but by the narrowest of margins. In the first game all four were handicapped with numerous splits and scores were small all around but Hayden and Christensen managed to pull out with one pin to the good. The second game things broke better and a hot fight was on from start to finish but the league leaders were forced to take the small end of this one, being ten pins to the bad at the finish. The fight was continued in the third game and the lead changed several times before the result was decided in the last two frames where Christesnen pulled it out with a good finish, making the match two to one in favor of Hayden and Christensen. The scores:

Hayden	144	160	172
Christensen	126	160	176
Totals	270	320	348
Thompson	133	167	168
Schrepper	136	163	155
Totals	269	330	323

The Danger of La Grippe.

Fischer, Washington, Kas., says: "I was troubled with a severe attack of la grippe and nothing I used did me any good and I was threatened with pneumonia. A friends advised me to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and I got some at once. I was relieved from the very first. I believe Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to be the best medicine I ever used and always keep a bottle with me." Weinmann-Matthews Co.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS"

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads 'round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, to

TRIED TO DODGE BOARD BILL

ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY—CASE WILL BE TRIED FEBRUARY 15.

Harry May, who was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of not paying a bill for room rent amounting to $114.50, was arraigned before Justice Stadtmiller and pleaded not guilty. He was released on his own recognizance to appear for trial Feb 15. The complaint was made by B. J. Moorman.

May had been arrested in the morning on a charge of nonpayment of a board bill amounting to $21.75 on complaint of Peter Ganallis, proprietor of the Criterion restaurant. He was brought from Detroit by Deputy Sheriff Hipp and that case was settled. The second warrant was served then and he demanded a trial.

THINK OF IT

Stop and think a moment about that cough that bothers you so much.

You must have been run-down when you got it, for if you had been perfectly strong your system would have thrown it off in two or three days.

Take our advice about this—what you really need is to build up your strength and enrich your blood: then the cough will disappear. We know it.

Carl Schultz of Coney Island, N. Y. says: "It only took two bottles of your delicious cod liver and iron preparation, Vinol, to put me on my feet again when I was all run down with a severe cough and cold which had lasted two months. I am recommending it to all my friends."

Vinol is the greatest strength creator and body builder we have ever seen and, besides its value in healing up weak sore lungs, it gives new strength and vitality to all weak, pale, rundown people. We guarantee Vinol to do this and give back your money if you are not satisfied.—Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.
